

The current special issue on J.M. Coetzee's Foe derives from a conference on Foe, organized by Marianne de Jong and the Department of Theory of Literature, UNISA, held on UNISA campus, 10–11 March 1988. However, this is not a volume of conference proceedings: Teresa Dovey's paper was submitted to Journal of Literary Studies after the conference took place, and two papers delivered at the conference (by David Atwell and Kathrin Wagner) have been published elsewhere. Marianne de Jong has acted as guest editor: she has been responsible for assembling and editing all material in this volume.
